

About the Museum:

Address:
The Boston Museum of Fine Arts
465 Huntington Avenue
Boston, MA 02115
Telephone: 617-267-9300

While several museums feature comprehensive collections of Ancient Egyptian (Kemet) artifacts, the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston also contains an extensive Kushitic (Nubian) collection. This unique feature allows us to discuss the relationship between two of the world's most important early civilizations. Major artifacts include world-renowned statues of Kemetic King Menkaure and his Queen Khamerernebty II and the exquisite Het-Heru Headed crystal pendant from Nubia. See the impressive collection of ushabti statuettes which belong to the 25th Dynasty ruler, Taharqa. This tour will provide a general overview of Ancient Kemetic and Nubian history while re-contextualizing Kemet as an African nation.

We will accomplish 3 objectives on this tour:

1. Develop an intimate portrayal of our ancient ancestors
2. Describe the major periods of Ancient Kemetic and Nubian History and Art
3. Explore the complex relationship between Kemet and Nubia over thousands of years.

Don't miss this interactive multimedia tour which explores the African cradle of civilization!

Please meet in the lobby of the museum no later than 15 minutes prior to the tour.

Jabari Osaze has studied Ancient Egypt for over 30 years, focusing primarily on the areas of history, esoteric symbols and sacred science. Brother Osaze has led study groups in Egypt since 2002 and tours of the world-renowned Egyptian collections of New York's Brooklyn Museum and Metropolitan Museum of Art.

While completing his Bachelor of Science degree at Cornell University, Brother Osaze's studies led him to the monumental works of Ra Un Nefer Amen and R.A. Schwaller de Lubicz. This led him towards the practice of the Ancient Egyptian (Kemetic) spirituality. In 1998, he was initiated into a Kemetic order, the Shrine of Ptah, by Chief Priest Heru Ankh Ra Semahj Se Ptah and was ordained as a Kemetic Priest in 2010. Jabari is a doctoral candidate at the University of Metaphysical Sciences and the Co-Producer and Co-Host of the TV Show, Kemetic Legacy Today. He is also the Co-founder of the Center for the Restoration of Ma'at and the author of Seven Little White Lies: The Conspiracy to Destroy the Black Self-Image.

To RSVP for museum tour: please email Djed@CenterForMaat.com
Include your name, mailing address, and phone number.

Prices: $30 for guided adult tour
$20 for guided student tour

Payment can be made via Paypal at http://centerformaat.com/navigation_bars/Lectures.html
or on site via cash or money order.

The Center for the Restoration of Ma'at
Presents

African Centered Tour of the Egyptian Wing of the Boston Museum of Fine Art

$30 for adults,
$20 for students over 12 years old

Tour led by Jabari Osaze

211 West 131st Street, Garden Level
New York, New York 10027
(646) 300-9400

www.centerformaat.com